'JOURNEY TO SOUTH AUSTRALIA'

Mr John Ford OAM FASMA

Throughout August, John had his artworks displayed in an exhibition presented by Genealogy SA as part of the South Australian Living Artists (SALA) Festival for 2022. The exhibition was formally opened by His Worship Michael Hewitson AM, Mayor of the City of Unley on Saturday 6 August. The featured image is the City of Adelaide – the world's oldest clipper ship, built in Sunderland, England and launched on 7 May 1864. Between 1864 and 1887, the City of Adelaide made 23 annual return voyages from London and Plymouth to Adelaide.

The SALA Festival is a state-wide festival of visual art. The festival was established in 1998 to promote and celebrate the many talented visual artists in South Australia. A week-long event when it first started, the festival now spans the entire month of August, involving over 600 venues and over 9,000 participating artists.

On 1 August, John Hutchinson OAM and his wife Athalie represented the Fleurieu Regional Group at the funeral of Marjorie Thornton OAM. Marjorie was aged 100 when she passed away on 15 July. She had received the Medal of the Order of Australia in the 2016 Australia Day Honours List, "For service to the community of Port Elliot".

Marjorie was the daughter of a Great War veteran who lived in Birmingham, and in 1941 the family home twice suffered from attacks from German bombers, resulting in the death of the family dog.

Marjorie volunteered for the Women's Auxiliary Corps, and was employed in a highly secret role with the Government Code and Cypher School at Bletchley Park.

John relates: "She was a most remarkable woman – one who worked on deciphering German codes in WW2".

HOW CAN I SUPPORT THE SA BRANCH?

Members often mention that they would like to play a more active and tangible role in supporting the activities of the SA Branch.

This might especially be the case if you live in a rural area or are restricted in mobility, but still wish to be involved.

The SA Branch only receives a small percentage of members' subscriptions from the national Association to allow us to conduct our various endeavours.

Perhaps you would like to make a small voluntary contribution to help with a particular expense or a particular project.

Some examples are the Student Citizenship Awards, the SA Branch support for the Adelaide Eisteddfod School's Choirs, and the production of our monthly newsletters.

For more information, refer to the flyer found on our website:

<https://theorderofaustralia.asn.au/sa/about-us/>

For initial guidance you may contact the Branch Chairman Tony Metcalf OAM via the following email address:

chairsa@theorderofaustralia.asn.au

The Treasurer reports that he has already received several contributions, which are all greatly appreciated.

Remember to identify yourself if making a contribution via online banking, and to let us know if you want your donation to be allocated to a particular project or function of the SA Branch.

SA BRANCH CHRISTMAS MORNING TEA

SAVE THE DATE: Friday 9 December 2022

Members and guests are cordially invited to attend our annual Christmas Morning Tea at the Goodwood Community Centre from 10 am to 12 noon.

There is no cost for members and guests. We will have raffles, and Association merchandise will be available to purchase.

Entertainment will once again be provided by Dr Rob Wight OAM and June Genders OAM. Our Guest Speaker is Brian Gilbertson AM, who will talk about his involvement with the Adelaide Christmas pageant.

Brian Gilbertson AM

Brian Gilbertson was appointed a Member of the Order of Australia in the Queen's Birthday Honours List of 14 June 2021, "For significant service to festivals and events in South Australia, to opera, and to voice education".

Brian's more recent story starts in 1984 when he sold his legal practice and went to Vienna to study Voice and Drama at the University of Performing Arts.

From that decision grew a 20-year career as a principal tenor in Opera, Gilbert & Sullivan and Musicals, expanding into production, direction and performance around the world.

Brian became a regular performer on Bert Newton's 'Good Morning Australia', and he produced several commercial recordings.

He was a performer with the State Opera of South Australia from 1989, and Principal Artist from 1989 to 2001. He was also a Board Member of Festivals Adelaide from 1998 to 2021.

Brian was the first person to sing both the Australian and Sri Lankan national anthems – at the 1996 Australia Day Test Cricket match in Adelaide. This became a tradition at Australia Day international sporting events.

He was then invited to sing anthems at international sporting events in several languages.

In 1999, Brian was an Arts Ambassador for the Sydney 2000 Olympic Games, giving concerts and voice masterclasses across nine countries.

On his return he set up a singing tips website, sharing his knowledge with thousands globally across the years.

He created the inaugural Bundaleer Forest Concert Weekend and Opera in the Wetlands, introducing regional South Australia to the world of opera in a natural setting.

He has been Manager of the Inaugural Word Adelaide Festival, a performer in the Adelaide Fringe Festival, and a performer at the Victorian Centre for Performing Arts.

In 2002, Brian became the Event Manager and Creative Director of the Adelaide Christmas Pageant.

On Saturday 12 November Brian will be delivering his twentieth pageant – when it returns to the streets of Adelaide. During the COVID Pandemic he twice directed the delivery of the Pageant as an Arena Spectacular at the Adelaide Oval.

For his services to the arts and the Adelaide Christmas Pageant, in 2010 Brian was named Citizen of the Year by the Lord Mayor of the City of Adelaide. In 2016, he was awarded a star on the Festival Theatre Walk of Fame. And then in 2021 he was appointed a Member of the Order of Australia.

Brian has delivered many keynote addresses to diverse audiences, with a particular reference to embracing change and meeting both expected and unexpected challenges. In recent times those challenges have been the most significant in his career. Turning a street parade into an arena spectacular in less than three months required the buy in of several thousand volunteers and professionals, a challenge that some said was impossible.

At our Christmas Morning Tea, Brian will tell us something about his transition from law to opera to pageant director, and embracing the challenge of change including preparation for the parades and some of the highlights of the 2022 Christmas Pageant.

Ribbons unravelled

The investiture ribbon of the Order of Australia

A particular length of ribbon presented with the higher grades of the Order of Australia is used once only, before being replaced and never used again – the full-size ribbon of the order (38mm in width) which is used for the investiture of a Knight, Companion or Officer.

The Order of Australia is the only order of chivalry within the Australian system of honours and awards. It was established by Her Majesty Queen Elizabeth II, Queen of Australia, on the advice of the Australian Prime Minister, by Letters Patent dated 14 February 1975.¹ At the time of its creation, the order comprised just three levels – Companion (AC), Officer (AO) and Member (AM). Letters Patent dated 24 May 1976 established the Medal of the Order (OAM) and also the grade of Knight/Dame (AK/AD), although this grade has been available for conferral only in 1976-83 and 2014-15.

The insignia ordinance describes the ribbons of the order as being of Royal blue silk moiré in three sizes – 38mm, 32mm and 16mm in width.² The widest ribbon has a central band 12mm wide, of scattered golden mimosa blossoms of various sizes; the other widths have the same pattern in proportion. Each of these golden discs represents a single flower of mimosa (Australian 'golden wattle'), which is the emblem of the Order.³

In the grades of Knight, Companion and Officer, the full-size insignia is worn as a neck decoration. A Dame of the Order may also wear her insignia as a neck decoration if preferred.

In uniform, each of these grades is always worn as a neck decoration.⁴ The insignia of a Knight, Companion and Officer is presented with a full-size 38mm neck ribbon, with fastening clasps at either end. This ribbon is only ever used for the purposes of the investiture, and should not be used again after that. A miniature-size ribbon, 16mm in width, is used to wear the neck badge insignia on all future occasions.

The neck badge insignia of a Knight of the Order of Australia (AK), worn by the Right Honourable Sir Zelman Cowen, AK, GCMG, GCVO, QC, DCL, (1919-2011), a former governor-general of the Commonwealth of Australia. The insignia was worn using a neck ribbon in Royal blue silk moiré 16mm in width

The Order of Australia is now in its fifth decade of existence and is well-established within the Australian Honours System. Yet many people, recipients included, are not fully aware of some of the more interesting aspects of the insignia and ribbon.

² Government House Canberra (2020) Order of Australia, 14th Edition. Office of the Official Secretary to the Governor-General

³ The ribbon of the order in the military division has an additional gold band 1.5mm wide on each edge

⁴ The insignia of a Member (AM) is worn as a breast decoration suspended from the ribbon of the order 38mm in width. A Dame of the Order, and female recipients of the AC, AO or AM not in uniform may, if they prefer, wear the insignia on the left shoulder suspended from the 38mm ribbon of the order in the form of a bow. The Medal of the Order (OAM) is worn as a breast decoration, suspended from a ribbon 32mm in width; a female recipient not in uniform may wear the insignia on the left shoulder suspended from the same ribbon in the form of a bow

This article on the investiture ribbon of the Order of Australia in the grades of Knight, Dame, Companion and Officer was published in the June 2022 issue of the Journal of the Orders and Medals Research Society (London). Of interest, the journal's cover features the ribbon of the Queen Elizabeth II Platinum Jubilee Medal (2022).

Coronation Medals

A Brief History, Part 2

This year we marked the 70th anniversary of the day in 1952 when Princess Elizabeth, as heir presumptive, acceded to the throne as Queen Elizabeth II, the fourth monarch of the House of Windsor.

Queen Elizabeth became Head of the Commonwealth and Queen Regnant of seven independent Commonwealth countries (the UK, Canada, Australia, New Zealand, South Africa, Pakistan and Ceylon).

And in June next year we will mark the 70th anniversary of the Coronation of Queen Elizabeth II, an event which was celebrated throughout the Commonwealth by the awarding of a Coronation Medal.

Medals have long been awarded by a sovereign as a personal souvenir at the time of their coronation or on the jubilee of their accession to the throne.

This tradition dates from the coronation of King Edward VI in 1547, when the first official medals to commemorate the coronation of a British sovereign were distributed. King William IV released such medals for his coronation in 1831, as also did Queen Victoria in 1838. These early medals (also referred to as medallions, medallots or commemorative coins) were not intended for wear.

Queen Victoria Coronation Medal (1838)

Upon the death of her uncle King William IV at Windsor Castle on 20 June 1837, Princess Victoria of Kent (Alexandrina Victoria) acceded to the throne as sovereign of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, aged 18, adopting the regnal name 'Victoria'.

After an appropriate period of mourning, Queen Victoria's coronation ceremony was conducted at Westminster Abbey on 28 June 1838.

This followed a public procession through the streets from Buckingham Palace, to which the Queen returned later as part of a second procession. This procession by coach to and from the Abbey has been repeated in all subsequent coronations.

Queen Victoria held the title, "Victoria, by the Grace of God, Queen of the British, Defender of the Faith".

In 1876, Parliament voted Queen Victoria the title of "Empress of India" to signify her rule over British India as its imperial head of state. This took effect on 1 May 1876, under the Royal Titles Act 1876.

The first Delhi Durbar (which served as an imperial coronation) was held in her honour eight months later on 1 January 1877.

Queen Victoria was the last British monarch of the House of Hanover.

This brass medallot, 23.5 mm in diameter, was struck to mark the coronation of "Her Majesty Queen Victoria" at Westminster Abbey: it bears the details "Crowned June 28. 1838" and has been pierced for wear as a pendant.
